The Pittsburgh Gazette.

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1866.

It is a matter of much importance that the Union Republican primary elections held to-day be well attended. Let none but loyal men be elected as delegates to the forthcoming County Convention. Vote only for those who are known to be true and faithful to the ever living principles of the party. The delegates must be fearless and outspoken men, for they will be called upon to rebuke the members of the party who are assiduously at work endeavoring to weaken and destroy its power in the State. In the gubernatorial election much will depend upon the character of the Convention to which you are now called upon to elect delegates. Do your duty and see that your neighbor forgets not his.

The Fayetteville (N. C.) News makes some plain statements of the nature of Southern loyalty, which people who have read President Johnson's and Secretary Seward's inculcations on that subject, will do well to peruse. We quote:

"The men who took these oaths, and who became citizens of the United States, and who have been obedient, and faithful and loyal to the laws, are not at heart friends of the Government of which they are subjects. They were defeated by the United States in an attempt to perfect a long cherished scheme, which must have resulted in the greatest benefit and advantage to themselves. They were human, and they could feel nothing else than bitterness for those whose triumph was in the ruin of their hopes and the blasting and crushing of their aspirations. The do not love the Government of the United States—the "Stars and Stripes", excite no emotions of pride in their bosoms, for they have seen it trailing in defeat too often, as their starry-crossed battle flag waved victorious in the Summer sunlight. * * *

They have no veneration for the Government, no love for the flag, no feeling of security for their interests, no very great desire to continue under the Government than necessarily compelled by coercion. If they had the power to establish a confederacy before they were whipped they would have established it, and it is reasonable to believe that if they could establish it now they would do so but for their oaths of allegiance. These oaths were to the effect that they would support the Constitution; should they ever be required to do more, or should the Constitution be subverted, these oaths are worth nothing."

Is this genuine loyalty? Are men, in this frame of mind, fitted to take seats in Congress? The President thinks they are. We should be glad to agree with him. But we cannot.

The New York World breaks out in this sort:

The Torture of Jefferson Davis.—It is no longer a matter of newspaper rumor that the treatment which Jefferson Davis has received during his incarceration in Fortress Monroe has been such as to break down his constitution, and to put him, after twelve months of protracted suffering, in imminent peril of death."

If the laws had been duly executed upon Mr. Davis he would have suffered death months ago. Maudlin sentimentality over the suffering of great criminals may be fashionable; but we don't invest largely in it.

Members of the Union League are notified in another column of the Annual Meeting of the State Grand Council of this patriotic order, to be held in this city on the 6th day of June ensuing, occurring immediately after the State Convention of the Soldier's Leagues, which is to be held here on the 5th. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance from all parts of the State. Indeed some of the most prominent men of the State have promised attendance already—including the distinguished President of the Order in this State.

The Republican members of the Senate spent most of the day yesterday in caucus, with a view to harmonizing views on the Reconstruction Amendment. Mr. Sumner manifests a disposition to the same sort of impracticability by which he defeated the Suffrage Amendment some weeks ago. It would be well for that gentleman to learn a fair deference to the opinions of his associates.

Reports have obtained currency that Mr. C. A. Dana has tendered his resignation as editor of the Chicago Republican, and that establishment is soon to change front and espouse the President's Policy. The latter part of the rumor is denied by the Republican; the former is not.

A Washington special to the Philadelphia Bulletin says:

"The friends of 'My Policy' are not satisfied with the speech of Secretary Stanton. Fearful denunciations of that officer are heard on all sides, while the radical organ here says it is the calm and dignified utterances of a statesman."

The Wheeling Intelligencer, of the 25th inst., says the vote on the Constitutional Amendment, taken the day before, was large, but considerably below the registration and the vote of 1864. The result in no one county had been received.

The Democratic paper of Elk county urges its party friends to unite with the conservative Republicans in supporting Colonel Carlton B. Curtis, of Warren, for Congress, against Mr. Schofield. We guess the Colonel is not that sort of man.

The telegraph again reports that Gov. Curtin has been tendered a foreign mission. Much as we should be pleased at such recognition of his services, we think no such offer has ever been made.

The bill equalizing bounties passed the House yesterday by an almost unanimous vote. We congratulate the brave men who are specially interested in this measure on the result so far.

The Third Annual Meeting of the Western Institute of Homeopathy commenced at Cleveland yesterday. Several physicians from Pittsburgh and Allegheny are in attendance.

The Senate yesterday rejected the nomination of Mr. Samuel McKelvy for Marshal of the Western District of Pennsylvania. The government is not exactly a one-man machine.

The chances of Mr. D. A. Finney being the successor of Mr. Culver in Congress are improving.

Election in West Virginia—Large Majorities for the Ratification of the Amendment Disfranchising Rebels.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 25.—The election in West Virginia yesterday, for the ratification or rejection of the Constitutional amendment disfranchising the persons engaged in the rebellion, passed off quietly.

The returns from the interior counties come in very slowly. Full returns received from eleven counties thus far indicate large majorities for the ratification. Wheeling city and Ohio county give three hundred majority for rejection.

Damages Awarded.

Boston, May 25.—In the Superior Court today, in the case of James Mulchean against Dr. Henry J. Prowdita, for damages for illegally branding the plaintiff with the letter D, (deserter), while examining surgeon in the Provost Marshal's office, the jury returned a verdict of $1,000 for the plaintiff.

A New Tonic and Alterative.

It is gratifying to notice the progress which science is making as regards new curative substances. We have in our advertising columns a brief description of a new combination, which is, certainly, so far as we can judge, one of great value. It is prepared by regular manufacturing chemists of long established reputation, who have for many years supplied some of the most beautiful chemicals used in medicine and the arts, and therefore are worthy of confidence. At this season of the year almost every one feels the need of some tonic and restorative, some agent capable of eradicating humors from the blood, and re-establishing the tone of the system. What can be better adapted to perform this office than the Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Lime. The Sarsaparilla breaks up diseased action, the Iodine acts upon the liver and kidneys, and the lime restores the waste of bones. It must be a very useful combination.

The Presentation of Flags

At Philadelphia, July 4th, promises to be a grand affair. Efforts are being made to have our city represented. The 102d regiment, what is left of them, have held a meeting, at which it was decided to go to Pittock's for Albums, Gold Pens, Wallets, Knives, &c.

The rush continues for those cheap Albums at Pittock's.

The Primary Meetings—Important Suggestions.

Messrs. Editors Gazette—To-day the Union Republicans will assemble at stated places to elect delegates to the forthcoming County Convention. It is a matter of importance to the entire community that the delegates chosen should pledge themselves to vote for men who will subserve the interests of the party. Among the many candidates in the field for public favor we might cite a few individuals particularly worthy of support, but we know you deem keeping neutral grounds till after the nomination shall have been made. However, we feel that you will not object to our calling attention to the superior and just claims upon the public of the old, well-known and reliable Boot and Shoe House of Joseph Robinson & Co., 61 Market street. He sells boots and shoes of every description and style, which are warranted to satisfy.

Over Ten Thousand

Persons have had teeth extracted without any pain whatever, at the Steam Dental Establishment of Quincy A. Scott, No. 254 Penn street, within the last seven years, and among this large number there is not one case in which his process has proved injurious. On the contrary, he can refer to numbers of his patients who claim to have been benefitted, in renewed health. So give him a call, and he will guarantee to extract your teeth without pain, by a perfectly safe process. He has increased his facilities for manufacturing Artificial Teeth, that he can defy competition both in the style and excellence of the work, and in the prices. He offers gum teeth, on vulcanite, for the small sum of eight dollars. Call and examine his specimens, and you will be convinced that he will do exactly as he advertises, or in other words, that there is no "humbug business" carried on at his establishment. Persons who desire to inhale Laughing Gas, are assured that they can get it perfectly pure, and they will be attended to by an experienced operator, and not by an "assistant." No charge for gas, in any case. Remember his number, 254 Penn street, third door above Hand.—Pittsburgh Post.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Read the following letter from E. Bourne, a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Pittsburgh, May 10th, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen. During a visit in the west last fall I contracted chills and fever which brought me to my bed and finally terminated in typhoid fever, and confined me to my room for several months, during which time I was physically prostrated that I almost despaired of ever recovering my health; having entirely lost my appetite for days, not being able to eat a morsel; added to this was the most distressing and reeling sensation in my head, and passed many sleepless nights—all from debility caused by my prostrate condition, brought about by the fever. On taking my departure for home, I was recommended me to use your celebrated Stomach Bitters, but being morally opposed to the use of stimulants in any form, I at first declined, but at last concluded to get one bottle, and, after taking the medicine for several weeks, as directed, my appetite returned and with it I am rapidly regaining my former strength. My sleep, (from the loss of which I had suffered much,) has never been better than it is now, and the reeling sensation (before alluded to,) has entirely left me. My friends, who had noticed my constitutional irregular, are now quite natural, and in fact I am glad to say that I feel myself a new man, and tender you this testimonial of my appreciation of your valuable preparation in order that others suffering as I was, may avail themselves of its virtues, which prejudice prevented me from enjoying for so long a period. I may also add that my physician, after seeing the good effect your Bitters had on me, recommended that I use them regularly. Yours, very respectfully,

E. Bourne,

Story of Deception and Crime—Base Conduct of an Italian Adventurer.

New York, May 25.—The Daily News makes public a story of deception and crime seldom met with. It appears that when Mrs. General Eaton, so famous as the leader of social and fashionable life in Washington during the administration of President Jackson, became a widow in a foreign land, she returned to this country. Taking up her residence here, she adopted two of her grand-children, a boy and girl, and with a competence (amounting to at least $100,000, was living very happily. At length an Italian adventurer, named Bourgamani, was employed as a dancing master for the children, and they took such a liking to him that they prevailed upon their grandmother to allow him to be introduced to their home. The result was that he married Mrs. Eaton, and succeeded eventually in getting possession of all her property. Nor did he stop here, but prevailed upon her to place in his charge the property she had set apart for her grand-children, of all of which he had the full use and benefit. He then set at work corrupting the girl, and finally sailed for Europe last Wednesday, taking her with him as his wife. He left the boy behind. Mrs. Eaton, on he told her he had converted all her property into cash, and would allow her twenty dollars per week if she would keep the matter quiet.

Pennsylvanians in Washington—Lobby Influence for Protection—Senator Cameron the Leader—The Administration and Mexican Affairs—Penian Receipts.

New York, May 25.—Specials to the evening papers say there is a powerful Pennsylvania lobby here to influence legislation in favor of protection. Senator Cameron is the leader.

The policy of the Administration in respect to Mexican affairs is gradually assuming a different shape, and may lead to a Congressional endorsement of the loan, which is being urged under strong pressure.

The Express states that, from January to the time of the Eastport fiasco, one hundred and eighty thousand dollars were received by O'Mahoney, of which fifty thousand had been sent to Ireland, the remaining one hundred and thirty thousand being spent here.

Colored People in Passenger Railway Cars.

Baltimore, May 25.—In the United States District Court to-day, Judge Giles decided a petition for an injudction against a city passenger railroad, for refusing to allow the petitioner, A. A. Bradley, colored, a ride in said cars. The judge decided that the facts stated in the petition did not present a case for the equitable action of the Court by way of injunction. The petitioner in this case claims to be a lawyer from Boston. The colored people generally protest against his course as an uncalled for interference in their behalf.

Woolen and Cotton Mills Damaged.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The large woolen and cotton mills of Simon Lord, at Darley, seven miles from this city, were damaged by fire to the extent of ten thousand dollars today. Also ten thousand pounds of wool employed in these mills. The loss is believed to be fully covered by insurance.

James River Bridge Completed.

Richmond, Va., May 25.—The long bridge across the James river, on the line of the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, erected in place of the bridge destroyed by fire in April of last year, was completed to-day.

CAUCUS ON RECONSTRUCTION.

The Pirate Semmes Seeks an Interview with the President.

EFFORT TO POSTPONE JEFFERSON DAVIS' TRIAL

Washington, May 25.—The Bounty bill passed the House to-day by an almost unanimous vote.

The Republican Senators adjourned at an early hour this afternoon, for the purpose of going into caucus on the reconstruction propositions, instead of continuing the debate on that subject to-day. It was thought that the final result would be facilitated by previous private consultation, instead of relying upon an accommodation of conflicting views in open Senate.

Special to the New York evening papers say that the ex-pirate Semmes arrived in Washington this morning, to have an interview with the President.

An effort is being made, with the consent of all parties, to postpone the trial of Jeff. Davis till the fall. The arrangement seems probable.

GENERAL GRANT SPEAKS OUT.

His Views on the Situation.

New York, May 25.—The Tribune, World, Herald and News are not pleased with the serenade speeches.

The Lewiston (Maine) Journal gives a report of an hour's conversation between the Editor and General Grant, in which, if the report is correctly given, the Lieutenant General appears to have spoken out more freely than he commonly does. He is reported to have said there were some parts of the country where war times had never ceased; particularly Texas, which needed to feel the blighting effects of the war to bring their people to a realizing sense of the enormity of their crime and the necessity of a thorough repentance. He, it is said, he, that those parts of the South which have not felt the war, and particularly those which have been within our lines, and have therefore escaped the rebel conscription and taxes, are much less disposed to accept the situation in good faith than those portions which have been literally overrun with fire and sword.

Referring to the temper of the Southern people, he remarked that they are much less disposed now to bring themselves to the proper frame of mind, than they were one year since. A year ago, said he, they were willing to do anything. Now they regard themselves as masters of the nation. Some of the rebel generals, he added, are behaving nobly and doing all they can to induce the people to put aside their old prejudices and to conform their course to the changed condition of things. Johnston and Dick Taylor, particularly, are having a good influence; but, he added, Lee is behaving badly. He is conducting himself very differently from what I had reason, from what he had said at the time of the surrender, to suppose he would. He, alone, in the South is capable of exercising a tenth part of the influence for good that he is, but instead of using it in the setting an example of honorable, straightforward conduct, he takes positions in its effects as to be hardly realized. The men who were in the rebel armies, said General Grant, acquiesce in the result much better than those who staid at home. The women are particularly bitter against the Major and Union men. Of course, he added, there is some bitterness of feeling among some classes, but I am satisfied it would have soon died out if their rebelling men had not attempted to get the idea that treason, after all, was not very bad, and that the Southern cause, as they term it, will yet triumph, but that was impossible. In my judgment, said Gen. Grant, the time of certain men and certain papers in the North is such as to do incalculable mischief in making the people believe that Lee, Davis, &c., are just as much entitled to rule as ever, and that if they will only stand by what they are pleased to call their rights, they will have help from the North. This, significantly added General Grant, is only playing over again the incipient stages of the rebellion.

He was confident that the large majority of the Southern people would smother their resentment and become good citizens, the mischief at the North, the copperheads, would only let them alone. For himself, if he had the power, the first thing he would do would be to settle the Mexican question. Upon secret sheets, which are giving the South so dangerous an idea of their own position and rights. Troops, said Gen. Grant, must be kept in all the principal points South for some time to come. This will be necessary to repress the turbulence of a class of the South being dangerous to all well disposed persons, and also for the protection of the freedmen who are looked upon with deep hatred by a very large proportion of the people.

Presbyterian Assemblies at St. Louis

St. Louis, May 25.—The subject of the removal of the Assembly Rooms to Alton, was reported upon in the Old School Assembly to-day. The plan suggested is for the appointment of a committee of five ministers and six elders to meet a similar committee of the Old School Assembly, who, after conferring with them, if they deem re-union desirable and practicable, are to report measures for its accomplishment to the next General Assembly.

Another, that the Old School and the Confederate Assembly be invited to join the Union, was tabled. The report of the Committee was adopted by a large majority. The remainder of the day was mainly occupied by Dr. Thomas and Dr. William Breckinridge, in speeches relative to the Louisville Presbytery case, the latter taking the ground that the Assembly has no right to ignore the existence of the Synod, and act directly with the Presbytery.

A series of patriotic resolutions on the state of the country was passed by the new School Assembly to-day.

The new School Assembly take an excursion to Pilot Knob, Iron Mountain, to-morrow.

Tennessee Items.

Nashville, May 25.—John Porterfield has been paroled by the President to report to General Thomas.

Andrew Johnson, Jr., nephew of the President, has been removed from the agency of the State Penitentiary by the Commissioners of that institution, and J. S. Wall appointed Warden.

The Legislature adjourns on Monday 4th October 8th.

A great Fenian meeting to-night was addressed by James Brennan, jr., of New York.

News from the interior of Georgia represent agricultural products nearly ruined by the heavy rains. The wheat crop is a failure on account of the rust. Great destitution prevails, and hundreds of families are destitute of food.

The crops in Tennessee are backward. About half a crop of wheat is anticipated. Corn and cotton are promising.

The steamers Virginia and Lidona are discharging. The city is healthy. Business dull.

Pardons by the President—No Bounty or Arrearages of Pay Allowed to Widows or Heirs of Deserters.

Washington, May 25.—The President has pardoned two brothers who were convicted of evading the levee law by making cigars without a license, and resisting the officers who made the arrest.

It has been ruled by the Second Auditor of the Treasury, whose decision has been sustained by the Second Comptroller, that no bounty or arrearages of pay will be allowed to the widow or heirs of any individual, who, at any time deserted from the service of the United States, no matter how short the desertion, notwithstanding he may have subsequently served out the time of his enlistment. In the prepared bills now before Congress, this policy is adopted, and all deserters are excluded from the benefits thereof.

From New Orleans.

New Orleans, May 25.—The steamer Bolivian has sailed for Liverpool.

Cotton unchanged; Low Middling 26@27c. To-day's receipts were 1,700 bales. This week's receipts, 9,200 bales, against 5,420 bales last week. Exports, 15,000 bales. Stock 187,498. Freights easy and unchanged. New York Exchange ¾ per cent. premium.

It is estimated that the total Louisiana cotton crop will be one-third the crop of 1861. That of last Louisiana is estimated at two-thirds, and that of North and Middle Louisiana at one-fifth. In the Red river country and other overflowed districts, there is scarcely any.

The Red river levees have given way, and the whole country is submerged from Natchitoches down.

The sugar cane is promising where it is not flooded.

Verdict of Damages for Refusing to Affix Revenue Stamps = Dr. Andrews Makes a Trip to the Aerial Regions.

New York, May 25.—In the United States District Court to-day the Jury returned a verdict of fourteen hundred dollars against Daniel Peters, hotel proprietor, for failure to affix revenue stamps to receipts of money.

Dr. Solomon Andrews, with three others, made an ascent in his Aereon, or flying ship, from the city this afternoon. After remaining an hour in the air he landed at Astoria, five miles distant. He found difficulty in making headway against the wind, but has no doubt of his ability to navigate the air.

Extensive Fire in Maine

Bath, N. Y., May 25.—The extensive Bath woolen and saw-mills were entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The loss probably will reach one hundred thousand dollars. It is only partly insured. The fire is thought to be the work of an incendiary.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Washington City, May 25, 1866.

SENATE.

Mr. Morrill introduced a resolution calling upon the President for information as to what executive action had taken place under the various bills for the colonization of persons of African descent, which was adopted.

Mr. Wilson called up the joint resolution concerning Cadet appointments. The question was, upon the amendment of Mr. Nesmith, that hereafter the Superintendent of the Military Academy may be selected from any corps of the army. It was disagreed to by yeas, 18; nays, 19. The joint resolution was then passed.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Donnelly, of Minnesota, introduced a bill to encourage the growth of forest trees on the western plains, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Hubbard, of Iowa, introduced a bill to repeal the restriction on the Postal laws, which prohibit the carrying of franked books and documents by the Overland mail to the Western Territories, and which require prepayment. The bill was referred to the Post-office Committee.

On motion of Mr. Perham, the Senate amendments to the amendatory House bill of the Pension laws were severally agreed to, and a committee of conference asked. The morning hour expired before action on the bill, and it went over.

Mr. Hooper, of Mass., from the Committee on Banking and Currency, reported a bill to secure and regulate the safe keeping of public money entrusted to disbursing officers of the United States. It makes it the duty of every disbursing officer of the United States, except those connected with the Post-office Department, having any public money entrusted to them for disbursement, to deposit it with the Treasurer, or some Assistant Treasurer, of the United States, and to draw for the same as may be required for payment; and where there is no Treasurer or Assistant Treasurer, the Secretary of the Treasury may give special authority in writing for the deposit of public money in any other public depository.

Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported back a substitute for the bounty bill, and moved the previous question, which was seconded by a vote of eighty-one to twenty-six. The original bill differs from the substitute in this, that the latter requires a deduction of local and State bounties, which the former did not require.

Mr. Schenck being requested to more fully explain the difference between the original bill and the substitute said: The substitute made no provision for bounty to substitutes, the Committee thinking that, as a general thing, they had no proper claim against the Government. There might be some exception in cases where men from unselfish or humane motives went into the army in place of drafted men, but Congress could only legislate for classes and such exceptional cases could safely be left to the care of the neighborhood.

After some discussion, a motion to reconsider the vote ordering the main question (moved by Mr. Rusk) was rejected, yeas 58, nays 74. The bill was then passed—ayes 120, nays 2.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Dawes in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the tax bill.

The House adjourned, but ten o'clock, having progressed through twelve pages during the day.

Mrs. Davis' Mission—"Jeff" Allowed the Freedom of Fortress Monroe.

Fortress Monroe, May 25.—Instructions from Washington were received this morning by General Miles to give Jeff. Davis, on his parole, the freedom of the fort, confining him to his room at Carroll Hall at night.

Messrs. Shea and O'Conner, his counsel, have been allowed access to the fort and private interviews with him at any time.

South Carolina State Convention.

Raleigh, May 25.—The Convention did nothing to-day of particular importance. A message from Governor Worth says he has no recommendations. The plan of reconstruction measures for he says all are loyal men, including the Congressmen elect. The President is heartily endorsed, and the Civil government is in complete operation. He also compliments Gen. Rogers' administration.

Great Fire at Pawpaw Michigan.

Detroit, May 25.—A special dispatch to the Advertiser and Tribune says that a great portion of business part of the town of Pawpaw, Michigan, was destroyed by fire on Monday. Among the losses are four dry good stores, two drug stores, one grocery, and one crockery house.

Fenian Prisoners at Cornwall.

Toronto, C. W., May 25.—The counsel of the Cornwall prisoners charged with Fenianism, has applied to the Court of Common Pleas to-day for a writ of habeas corpus. The Chief Justice promises a judgment to-morrow.

River at Louisville.

Louisville, May 25.—Evening.—River falling, with four feet nine inches water in the canal. Weather showery.

Citizens of Troy Hill in Council.

At a meeting of the citizens of Troy Hill Reserve township, on Thursday evening—Mr. A. Reineman, President, and Mr. B. Moser, Secretary—to take into further consideration the recent disturbances created in their vicinity, a committee reported verbally that they had conferred with Hon. Walter H. Lowrie, who declared himself always ready to give advice and support at any time with out charge. This committee also reported the opinion and advice of Judge Mellon, of the Common Pleas Court, viz:

That in case of any riot the Sheriff would at any time be empowered to call on the force for suppression of the same; that the citizens may have any person out of their midst they should wish appointed Deputy Sheriff; and also that in such case no compensation is required, that he would assure the citizens that the full punishment of law should be inflicted on persons so offending. A motion was made that two persons should be appointed by Troy Hill. A substitute, "that no pic-nics should be allowed unless the parties arranging such pic-nics have sufficient police force on the ground to preserve the peace," was adopted. A committee of six was appointed of the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Whereas, This vicinity has been invaded by lawless and desperate characters, and our lives and property endangered thereby, we, the citizens of Troy Hill have resolved that we form ourselves into a committee of observation for our mutual protection, and that we will assist the Sheriff or Constable of Troy Hill Sheriff, who shall be assisted by twelve citizens appointed weekly by a committee of three for the purpose of bringing to justice all violators of the peace.

Resolved, That we will not tolerate the sale of any liquor on Sunday, and we request those who have been guilty of this offence to desist from it in the future, and all persons visiting these places against indulging in any disorderly conduct, and also that they will be subpœnaed as witnesses in case of any such violation of law.

Resolved, That all persons owning or occupying grounds as pic-nic grounds will be in Watch and Ward, and if necessary, employ police to secure a sufficient police force to maintain order, so that peaceable citizens may attend to their usual business without fear of their homes being disturbed in their absence.

Resolved, That all fines received by the informers shall be applied to the school fund of the district.

In presenting the above resolutions, the committee did not wish to be understood as being opposed to peaceable persons visiting Troy Hill for proper amusement or recreation.

Lutheran Synod at Fort Wayne

The following resolutions were adopted by the Lutheran Synod, in session at Fort Wayne Indiana.

Resolved, That to the millions of bondmen, who by the vicissitudes of war have been so suddenly and strangely translated into a state of freedom, the country owes its most beneficient and paternal guardianship, to the end that they suffer no detriment from neglect or abuse, but be strengthened, conserved and assisted, in which great duty the Church of Christ cannot and must not be found tardy or delinquent.

Resolved, That we share in the enlightened and spontaneous sentiment of the people of this land, and of all other lands, in expressions of profoundest sorrow, because of the violent death of President Abraham Lincoln, whose memory as a Patriot, a Statesman, and the highest type of a Philanthropist, we cherish and revere, and whose invaluable services to our nation, and to the cause of the suffering and oppressed, we will ever hold in grateful and affectionate remembrance.

Fined Twenty-five Dollars.—John and William Stewart were the names of the two men who committed the unprovoked and brutal assault upon officer Seth Wilmot, at the Theater, on Thursday evening. They spent the night in the tombs, and on Friday morning Mayor McCarthy, after dilating upon the aggravated nature of their offense, imposed a fine of twenty five dollars each. They paid the amount and departed, doubtless with a determination to conduct themselves properly, instead of (as in the case of Mr. Wilmot) cowardly attacking and brutally abusing him.

Worthless Bank Note—Michael Kelly, living in strawberry alley, yesterday evening voluntarily appeared at Alderman Strain's office, a charge of passing a worthless five dollar bill having been brought against him by Bridget O'Dowd. Upon a hearing of the parties the magistrate did not feel warranted in holding the accused, the prosecutrix not being able to say how or from what source he had received the note from him. He was, therefore, discharged.

Dr. Nesbit's Centenary Sermon.—By special request, Rev. Dr. Nesbit, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, will repeat his Centenary sermon, which he delivered before the Pittsburgh Conference at its recent session at Washington, Pa., in the Liberty Street M. E. Church, to-morrow afternoon (27th) at three o'clock. It is expected a large concourse will be present.

Dunkard Creek.—The damage done by fire to the Bobtail and Vandegrift wells on Dunkard Creek, has been fully repaired, and the wells are each now pumping between eight and ten barrels of oil per day.

The U. P. Board of Missions.

The Board of Missions of the U. P. General Assembly reassembled at the appointed hour yesterday morning in Dr. Clark's Church, South Common, Allegheny. The session was opened with prayer, after which the Board proceeded to make the following appropriations to Missions in need of aid within the bounds of Presbyteries:

Ebenezer, Ohio	$150 00
Dayton, Ohio	200 00
Second Church, Cincinnati	500 00
Bloomington, Illinois	200 00
Jacksonville, Illinois	150 00
Peoria, Illinois	150 00
Spring Creek, Illinois	150 00
Garnet, Kansas	200 00

Pending the granting of the last appropriation, the delegate from Kansas, Rev. W. A. McKenzie, addressed the Board at some length on the condition of the various Missions in that state, and advocated strongly the granting of as large appropriations as could possibly be spared from the fund. To those missions, as they had an immense amount of labor to perform, and would therefore need liberal aid from those duty it would be, in operating the interests of the Church. After the granting of the appropriation to the Gospel Mission, a motion was offered to the effect that the meetings of the Board be changed to the lecture room of the Fourth Church (Rev. Mr. Dickey.) On the motion being put by the chair, it was negatively by a large majority. The Board then adjourned to meet at two o'clock.

Two o'clock, P. M.—Session.

The Board met according to adjournment. After prayer by Rev. J.

FOR GOVERNOR:

OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

COAL AND SMOKE.

The London Quarterly Review for April contains an article under this heading, which embodies numerous valuable suggestions. It may, perhaps, be taken as an indication of the nature and direction of the inquiries stimulated by the approaching exhaustion of the British Coal measures. Many of the facts collated, however, have a wider bearing, and have applications where no "coal famine" need be apprehended within calculable periods.

After considering the waste of coal consequent on defective processes in mining, bringing out various computations which all persons even superficially acquainted with collieries have a general knowledge of, but which are absolutely astounding to the uninitiated, the writer proceeds to estimate the absolute and relative loss in the consumption of coal through imperfect combustion. The evidence seems to be that although the appliances for consuming smoke are by no means complete, the saving effected by the use of them reaches full twenty per cent. on the total amount of coal used. In the House of Commons, on the night when Sir Robert Peel made his onslaught on smoke and smoke producers, Mr. Hanbury stated that by the application of an arrangement well known as Jucke's, there was an annual saving in the brewery of his firm in Brick-lane of not less than $10,000. In the course of this debate it came out that smoke-consuming contrivances were so well known and efficacious that the use of them was not only enjoined by law, but enforced by the local authorities in that congeries of municipalities known as London. Outside of the metropolis, however, the power of habit was too strong for the instinct of economy to overcome, and the proprietors of manufactories continued to incur vast needless expenditures for coal rather than venture on an experiment that had been fully demonstrated to be both successful and easy.

A like tenacity of custom was exhibited in the tanneries of this country, until within a very recent period. It may be instances of it still exist. The tanners were accustomed to pay large sums of money yearly for wood, with which to keep up fires in furnaces for heating liquors. Meantime the spent bark accumulated in the yards, involving considerable expense for its removal. Sometimes it was shoveled into the streams on which the tanneries happened to be situated, annoying mill owners below by filling up their ponds, and disturbing farmers by thick deposits of it on their lands during floods. At length a furnace was so constructed as to require very little other fuel than spent tan-bark. It was a decided success. But tanners were slow in adopting it, though the saving to each establishment ranged from two to four thousand dollars a year.

The Review gives a picture of London. It says:

"Here we are in the metropolis breathing coal-smoke, begrimed with coal-smoke, and sometimes involved in that 'pitchy cloud of infernal darkness,' through which we see the sun as a fiery red ball. Our buildings are made hideous by coal-smoke, being patched with horrid streaks of black where the rain fails to penetrate. The things we call statues, though consisting of bronze, are blackened with soot—an effect which it is reported an eminent deceased sculptor admired, as they were thus boldly relieved against the sky! If we keep our windows closed the ubiquitous smut gains access, and if we open them—as we need must—woe betide us. And not only do our hands and faces contract dirt, but soot finds its way into the air-chambers of our lungs. Plants as well as animals are poisoned by smoke, and see how they struggle for existence even in the Parks of London. The fine trees in Kensington Gardens are dying apace, and roses bloom not within some miles of Charring Cross. But what is that dense canopy of coal-smoke over our heads but a veil which makes man wretched and nature hideous?"

He then goes on to say that this evil is now caused in a great measure by the imperfect combustion of a very large quantity of coal in domestic fires, as, with few exceptions, the nuisance formerly occasioned by furnace chimneys has been greatly abated.

It is probable the comparatively speedy exhaustion of the British coal measures will work a reform in the consumption of coal, profitable to the consumers, and tending greatly to the general comfort. In America, with our inexhaustible coal beds, and the prevailing disposition to extravagance, it is likely the evil of coal smoke is not approaching the end of its term. Yet twenty per cent. a year saved on the gross consumption of bituminous coal would form an immense aggregate. Here in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the contiguous boroughs, if so appropriated, it would be an endowment for public purposes that would be of incalculable utility. Retained in the pockets of those practicing the economy, it would result in savings largely available for useful ends.

"WE are not one of those who have indulged in 'flings' at the Governor, but it will do no harm, we hope, to ask the Gazette whether it is customary for the Governor of this or any other State to await the decision of any judicial tribunal upon the constitutionality of a legislative enactment before he decides whether he will approve or disapprove it."—Johnstown Tribune.

Gov. CURTIN knows, if our cotemporary does not, that a judicial decision upon a bill cannot be obtained until it becomes a law. A law already exists prohibiting deserters from voting. Suits have been brought in different counties against Judges and Inspectors of elections for refusing votes according to the provisions of that law. As far as these suits have been tried, whether before Republican or Democratic Judges, the rulings have been against the constitutionality of the law. Judge CHAMBERS, of the Franklin district, has so held, among others. The case in which he made that decision was taken to the Supreme court, and has been argued within the last few days. Judgment has not yet been rendered. In the meantime the Senator from Franklin, a most excellent lawyer, brought forward a bill designed to cure the defects of the existing law, and especially to cover the point pending before the Supreme Court. Governor CURTIN waits the judgment of the Court of last resort. There is no need for hurry. The State election is several months distant. In some quarters, however, he has been coarsely assailed; charged with driving a base bargain with the Democrats for the defeat of the bill; for all of which we see no excuse.

—Since the above was in type, we learn that when the Franklin County case came up for argument before the Supreme Court, Attorney General Meredith sent the Judges a note, in which he said:

"Shortly before the termination of the last session, a bill was sent to the Governor for his approval, providing for carrying into effect, so far as relates to the exercise of suffrage in this Commonwealth, the enactments of the act of Congress referred to. Understanding that one or more cases, involving the question of the constitutionality of that act of Congress, would be presented for your decision at the present term, he thought that a due observance of that respect for and obedience to the law, as adjudicated by the highest tribunal of the Commonwealth, which have always been prominent characteristics of our people, required that he should await, if possible, the result of your decision. As the provisions of that bill are probably not otherwise known to the Court, I beg to suggest that if it should become a law, a very considerable time will be required to make the necessary thorough examination of the military records of the United States, and to prepare the detailed lists which it directs to be transmitted to the officers of the respective courts of quarter sessions, and to afford sufficient time between such transmission and the general election, to persons whose names may be upon those lists, to obtain the evidence of any mistake which may have occurred in regard to themselves individually. I conceive it to be my duty to bring these circumstances to the attention of the Court, that they may be apprized of the great public interests that seem to invite an early announcement of their judgment on the question."

The argument of Mr. A. K. M'CLURE and Mr. JOHN CESSNA for the constitutionality of the law was so full and complete—so absolutely unanswerable—we feel a large degree of confidence the law will be sustained. In that event, no doubt the Judges will see the force and pertinency of Mr. MERRDITH'S suggestion, and make an early announcement of their decision. Then Gov. CURTIN will approve the bill now in his hands. If the decision shall be adverse, he will not sign it. In either case he will put his accusers to shame.

A Curious Statement About Santa Anna and Secretary Seward.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette makes the following statement, upon his own responsibility, no doubt:

It is known that Santa Anna came to this country through the influence of Secretary Seward. Santa Anna was expected last week, Friday, at which time, it will be remembered, it was telegraphed over the country that Mr. Seward had gone to Auburn but the non-arrival of the steamer Georgia, upon which Santa Anna was, delayed his trip until Saturday, but still the vessel did not come. On Monday Mr. Seward, accompanied by his private secretary, went in a private car to Jersey City, reaching Taylor's Hotel in that city at daylight on Tuesday. He registered his own name unofficially, and his Secretary, upon being requested to register, declined. Several men from Elizabethport, where Santa Anna's party is stopping, reached the hotel about early hour, and were in waiting for Mr. Seward. The interview lasted for some time, and, from the description given of one of the party, he is believed to be Santa Anna himself. Mr. Seward left Jersey City at 11 A. M. the same day for Auburn. This is the second attempt that has been made to get Santa Anna into this country since Mr. Seward's interview with him at St. Thomas last winter. The first effort failed, although a vessel was sent specially for him. On that last occasion he was given to understand that if he expected to accomplish anything he must come here at once, because matters were in such a shape that further delay would be fatal to the proposed plans, which ever they were. Santa Anna's devotion to the liberal cause is believed to be unimpeached bland.

A Rapid Fall—A Sad Case.

A young woman, very neatly dressed, was found yesterday at Sixth and Alabama streets, in a beastly state of intoxication. She was in such a helpless condition that a push cart was required to get her to the Second District Police station. Some time after her arrival, Lieutenant Hampton had occasion to go into the lockup, and he discovered the woman standing in a peculiar position just inside of the door. He spoke to her but received no reply. It was then found that the prisoner had hung herself to a beam, with a rope made out of her apron. She was then insensible, but was quickly cut down, and with proper treatment, was restored to consciousness. She then told her story to Lieut. Hampton. It is a sad one. She gives her name Gertie Bell Charles, and says that she is twenty-two years of age. Three months ago she was an honored member of society in New Orleans. She became acquainted with a young man with a smooth tongue, and was finally persuaded to leave her husband and elope with her newly made acquaintance. The ruin always came to this city, but having taken a false step, the downfall of the woman was rapid. The couple lived together for some time, but a quarrel occurred, and the gay young Lothario deserted the woman he had enticed from home and friends. She then got to drinking—a small quantity at first—but ultimately acquired such a taste for liquor that she was frequently intoxicated, and to cap the climax was carried through the streets in a push cart. She then determined to rid herself of a life which had become a burden, and was only prevented from accomplishing her purpose by the timely discovery of Lieutenant Hampton. The woman is prepossessing in appearance, and her conversation shows that she has been well educated. She was taken in charge by some parties on Bay street with whom she has been recently living.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Feminine Plea for the Tilting Hoops.

A lady, writing to the Utica Observer, says:

Although you appear to be stubbornly opposed to that (to you) obnoxious article of female apparel called "tilters," yet I doubt not that you will be impartial enough to hear the other side of the question, and let the ladies say a word in self-defense. In the first place, if they choose to do so, they are at perfect liberty to wear any article of apparel introduced as a fashion by the best circles of society, and worn, as these innocent "tilters" are, by all the fashionable ladies of our large cities. And inhocent they are, too, say what the spiteful newspaper men may about their "immodesty" and "lack of refinement." I have no doubt that these gallant men have just as much admiration for a dainty pair of feet and ankles as any other man, and would exert themselves to obtain a view whenever a young lady sees fit to offer an opportunity.

If there is any thing bad in a pair of hoops that expose to view neatly-dressed feminine pedal extremities, the ladies as yet fail to see it. When editors talk about "indecent exposure of person," etc., they display their lamentable ignorance of female apparel; and utterly ignore the fact that pantalettes are worn with the tilting hoops as well as without them.

In short, claiming that a lady has as good a right to show her graceful feet, as a man his great, ungainly, uncouth appendages, we cannot see why our much-abused fair, since they must wear hoops, should not be allowed to wear in peace that particular kind which is the most graceful, convenient and in every way the most serviceable.

Thrilling Disaster on Lake Huron.

From the Detroit Free Press, 25th inst.

The schooner Ferret, with a crew of six persons, cleared on Tuesday night last, when twenty miles outside of Point au Barques. She was laden with shingles and pickets, destined for Detroit. After clinging to the wreck for nine hours, and being continually submerged in a very cold and tumultuous sea, the crew were rescued by the schooner Oshawk, which took them to Alabaster, on the Tawas Bay. Some of the crew have arrived here, and state that at the time she capsized there was a considerable lull in the wind, but that the vessel seemed suddenly to lose steerage way, and she was a half hour in getting on to her beam ends, during which the crew worked industriously to rid themselves of the deck load, to no purpose, she being waterlogged; a plank must have sprung from her thus letting the water in rapidly. She was nearly new and owned by James Craig, Esq., of this city. A tug has been despatched to bring her in.

—A New Orleans letter says that the sugar lands which lie along the banks of the navigable streams are now chiefly devoted to cotton. During the war a good deal of the necessary machinery was destroyed, and much of the plant cane was lost. The planters have not had the necessary means to renew their material, and consequently sugar ceases for the time being to be a staple product of Louisiana, notwithstanding the fact that she was once the third sugar-exporting country in the world.

—Unless there be a change of Ministry, or an early dissolution of Parliament, the whole British system of capital punishment will be wholly altered.

GENERAL NEWS.

—One day last week, William Evans, of Blairsville, attempted to commit suicide by hanging from a rope attached to a bed-post.

—The estate of M. D. Potter, the lately deceased proprietor of the Cincinnati Commercial, proves unexpectedly to be worth $500,000.

—A run was made on the Third National Bank of St. Louis last week. The excitement soon cooled off, and the depositors returned their money.

—William F. Bond, residing near Black River Falls, Wis., was killed last week by being buried under a sand bank from which he was excavating sand.

—Thomas W. Birdsall, President of the Security Fire Insurance Company of New York, on Wednesday committed suicide in his office by taking strychnine.

—An Indiana Peabody exists in the person of Chauncey Rose, of Terre Haute, who has donated, during his life, over $287,000 to charitable purposes and institutions.

—The President has pardoned three of the Alexandria rioters who kept last Christmas by killing negroes, and who but recently were sent to the Albany Penitentiary.

—Oberlin (O.) is in a state of impecuniosity. An appeal is made for $150,000. There are 770 students, 425 males and 325 females. Of the whole number, 261 are new students.

—There are nine hundred and thirty seven convicts in the Illinois penitentiary. A batch of fifteen were sent from Springfield last week, and thirty are expected from Chicago soon.

—Mayor Park, of Memphis, on Monday sent a challenge to one of the editors of the Argus. The invitation to fight was declined, and the Mayor published a card denouncing the Argus man as a coward.

—Powhattan, on James river, near Richmond, where according to tradition, Capt. John Smith's life was saved by the fair Pocahontas, is said to have been sold to Colonel North, of Massachusetts, for $26,000.

—J. P. Chapman, the founder of the Indianapolis Sentinel, formerly a prominent political character, and widely known under the sobriquet of "Crow, Chapman, Crow," died at Indianapolis on the 19th inst.

—One of the lady teachers in the industrial school at Petersburg, Va., was recently questioning her pupils from Scripture, and asked: "Who died for you?" To which a little fellow shouted in reply, "Abraham Lincoln."

—The Richmond Times declares that the attempts to make Jeff. Davis "odious as a traitor, have canonized him in the affections of a brave and noble people." He also heartily deserves being canonized as did the rebellious Sepoys.

—A Johnson man who waited upon the chairman of the Wisconsin Republican State Committee and requested Administration documents, much to his astonishment was referred to the chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

—The match for the American championship of billiards resulted in favor of Dion, a Canadian player, who defeated Deery, his opponent, by 134 points. The game lasted five hours, and was played in the Cooper Institute, New York.

—A young man who had been living as an invalid for some time with his uncle in North Lebanon, last week took a hasty leave, since which he has not been heard from. Nearly four hundred dollars of his uncle's money disappeared at the same time.

—A sale of army clothing took place at Fortress Monroe recently. About three thousand dark blue pantaloons, regulation pattern, sold at an average of eighty cents per pair. Some of the purchasers were offered two dollars and a half a pair an hour after they were bought.

—On an average three hundred persons die yearly in the City of New York from the direct effects of intemperance, which does not include the homicides, the suicides, and the thousand-and-one other causes of death that indirectly arise from the liquor trade. The drinkers spent $30,000,000 last year.

—Mr. J. H. Stevens, keeper of a billiard saloon at Wilmington, Illinois, was killed recently by jumping from an express wagon. One of his feet struck upon a round stone, which turned, and he received a compound fracture of the leg, which was afterward amputated, but the operation did not avail to save his life.

—George W. Schlecht, a city passenger railway conductor of Philadelphia, was sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary yesterday, by Judge Cadwalader, for passing counterfeit notes and coin. The court considered the responsible position held by the prisoner, which enabled him to pass the spurious money, and hence the severity of the sentence.

—It is in contemplation to build a new Executive mansion on the high grounds east of the Capitol, and turn the White House into a fire proof building for the State Department. It was for that purpose leave was asked a day or two since to bring in a joint resolution directing the proper committees to make a reconnoissance for a site.

—Col. J. W. Taggart, it turns out, owes his removal to the proprietor of the Philadelphia News, the Johnson organ in that city, upon whose press he levied to compel the payment of internal revenue taxes for 1864. When the levy was made, Colonel Taggart was threatened with removal from office, and the threat was carried out to the letter, the pretence being that he sought to break down the News because it was a Johnson paper.

—On the day of his death, the late T. W. Brown, of the Wisconsin Chief, addressed this "Valedictory" to his readers to his sister, who had been his assistant editress for years:

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1866.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Brief telegrams have already been published of the meeting of the General Assemblies of the Old and New School Presbyterian bodies at St. Louis, organization, election of Moderators, etc. The Old School body convened in the Second Presbyterian Church on Thursday of last week, and immediately after the opening sermon of Dr. Lowrie, the retiring Moderator, and perfecting the organization, Rev. R. L. Stanton, D. D., of Ohio, was elected Moderator by a large majority. Rev. Dr. Hickok was elected Temporary Clerk. Dr. McLean moved that in consequence of the action of the Presbytery of Louisville not to sustain or execute, or in any manner assist in the execution of the orders passed at the last two Assemblies on the subject of loyalty or slavery, and which refer to the conducting of missions in the Southern States, and with regard to ministers, members, or churches in the seceded or border States, that said commissioners therefrom shall not be entitled to seats in this body. Some discussion ensued, but, on the vote being taken, the resolutions were adopted by a vote of 201 ayes to 50 noes. The Moderator announced at the second day's session the following Standing Committees: Bills and Overtures, Judicial, Theological Seminaries, Domestic Missions, Foreign Missions, Education, Publication, Church Extension, Instruction of Freedmen, Systematic Benevolence, State of Religion, Correspondence, Finance, Devotional Exercises, Disabled Ministers' Fund, Mileage, Leave of Absence. The principal part of the session was taken up in the discussion of a resolution of inquiry into the alleged acts and proceedings of the Louisville Presbytery. On the third day the Committees on Synodical reports were announced. The principal part of the session was taken up with the reports of the Boards of the Church. The New School body met on the same day (17th) in the First Presbyterian church. After a sermon by Dr. Shaw, retiring Moderator, Dr. Hopkins was elected Moderator. Committee on Commissioners reported that there were present about one hundred ministers, and upwards of ninety elders. In the evening of the first day, meetings for prayer, with reference to the state of the country, were held in the churches of Dr. Nelson and Mr. Starr. At one of the meetings Hon. John A. Foote, of Cleveland, (brother of the late Admiral Foote,) spoke of his joy in seeing the sittings of this Assembly graced by the flags over and around the Moderator's chair—the stars and stripes, and not the stars and bars—here in Missouri. It was one of the glorious fruits of our Home Missions and our Bible distribution. The fight had been between the Bible and slavery, and the Bible had conquered. He hoped the men of both the Assemblies now sitting in this city, would pray here for the Union, and then go home and vote for the Union. The session of the second day was occupied until ten o'clock with devotional exercises. The main portion of the session was taken up after that with the report of the Committee on Home Missions. The report was read by Rev. H. Kendal, D. D., Corresponding Secretary, formerly of this city. It is represented as being a very able document.

—The report of the Board of Managers of the American Bible Society, at its Jubilee Meeting just held, some interesting facts were stated. The organization of the Society took place in New York city May 8, 1861, by sixty delegates from thirty-five local Bible Societies. Of these venerable men the only survivors are the Rev. Gardiner Spring, D. D., of New York, and the Rev. Gilbert Sayers, D. D., of Jamaica, L. I. It has had seven Presidents since its organization. The Society now has upon its list 1,842 auxilliaries, with their 3,390 churches, making in all 5,232 Bible Societies. Nearly 36,000 have been made directors and members for life. The whole amount of receipts during the fifty years has been $10,434,953 71. The sum total of issues is 21,409,966 volumes. The Society prints and circulates the Scriptures in whole or in part in about fifty languages and dialects.

—The Episcopalean lately said in regard to "Apostolic Succession," that it was "a doctrine of which, it confesses, it knows very little. It may be true, and it may not. It cannot be proved. All the Bishops in the Church might endorse it, yet that would not make any difference. No Bishop would dream of making belief in this doctrine a prerquisite to ordination. Besides it is not a dogma of the Church. Individuals may believe or not, as they please. When the Church insists upon the re-ordination of ministers from other churches, it does discredit their previous ordination as little as the Government can be considered as holding the commissions of officers in the volunteer service as good for nothing when it recommissions them when they enter the volunteer service.

—Reference has been already made to the differences existing between the old and the new school party in the Evangelical Lutheran Church. It is expected that warm controversy will occur at the meeting of the General Synod now in session at Fort Wayne, Indiana. The former holding to all the teachings of the Augsburgh Confession, and the other rejecting these three points. First, Actual presence in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Second, Actual remission of sins in baptism. Third, The practice of absolution.

—Dr. Patton, of Chicago, Illinois, writes from London, England, that the religious anniversaries occupy the entire months of April and May, and some considerable portion of June and July. A list of the public meetings and sermons, published by Bagster & Sons, numbers one hundred and sixty-seven occasions.

—The folowing paragraph floating about is worthy of note by Sunday fair-weather Christians, and of that ilk: For persons to plead head, tooth or side ache as an excuse for neglecting public worship on the Sabbath, when they are running all about in the mud and rain on Saturday and Monday, is a species of moral swindling, which merits, and which receives, the sarcastic of an eagle-eyed infidelity!

—The Universe says the Pope issued a new loan of sixty millions of francs, in April last. It is to be managed by Blount & Co., of Paris, and is offered at 66 per cent. Thus far it has met with very much success.

—A writer in the Christian Examiner (Unitarian) claims that the secret of its lack of recent ecclesiastical triumphs "lies in the internal decay of orthodoxy; not as an organization, but as a creed and a discipline."

—The Episcopal Council of Virginia, in session at Alexandria, has passed a resolution of union with the Northern Church, or rather the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

—The Board of Managers of the Methodist Tract Society offer one prize of $100, and two prizes of $75 each, for tracts against the use of tobacco.

—An attempt by burglars was made to rob the Clearfield county National Bank,

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Trial of Jeff. Davis—Civil Rights Bill in Virginia—Santa Anna's Staff in Conference With the Mexican Minister—The Memphis Riots—Colonel Sam. McKelvy's Nomination for Marshal of the Western District of Pennsylvania Rejected—Frank Blair's Case Not Reconsidered—Gov. Curtin Tendered a Mission to Italy—Mrs. Davis Wants "Jeff" Sent Further North—Case of Paymaster Paulding—Davis and Clay's Complicity in Lincoln's Assassination.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Herald's Washington special says: The trial of Jefferson Davis under the Norfolk indictment will doubtless be postponed until August or September next, in consequence of the strong feeling prevailing in Richmond on the subject. Much animosity prevails against the jury who returned the verdict, and until this subsides the Attorney General thinks it best to delay the trial. The counsel for the Government will consist of Attorney General Speed, John H. Clifford, Wm. H. Evarts, and Major General L. H. Rousseau, the latter representing the army in the prosecution.

The following specials to the morning papers contain the following: A case involving the constitutionality of the Civil Rights bill has just been decided reversely by Judge Thomas, of the Circuit Court of Virginia, sitting in Alexandria. In a civil action between white men, one of the parties offered to produce negro evidence. The Judge decided that inasmuch as the State law in Virginia forbid the introduction of negro testimony in civil suits to which white men alone were the parties, the evidence of the negro was inadmissable, and that no Congressional legislation could impair her right to decide what persons or classes of persons were competent to testify in her courts. This decision, will, no doubt, lead to much discussion, and create no little excitement before its final settlement by superior authority.

The Senate to-day rejected Samuel McKelvy, nominated as United States Marshal for the District of Western Pennsylvania, and also Mr. Purnell Blair, candidate for Postmaster at Baltimore.

Major Gilbreth, who was sent by General Howard to investigate the Memphis riots, has made a partial report on the subject. He says the civil authorities have not taken the slightest notice of the recent riots, and seem to regard them as simply a skirmish between the police and the negroes. It was certainly a very one-sided skirmish, as from the testimony no resistance was made by the negroes after the first night. The citizens have been advised to hold a meeting and denounce the conduct of the mob, but still decline or neglect to do so. The papers of Memphis are at the root of the whole matter. They have incited murder and riot for months, and this is only the legitimate result of their inflammatory articles, incendiary articles, and these poor whites, between whom and the negroes a feud has always existed, have been but their tools.

The Senate to-day, after a long debate, reconsidered the vote rejecting the nomination of Frank Blair as Collector of the First District of Missouri is incorrect. No confirmation or rejection can be reconsidered unless the motion is made within two Executive sessions after confirmation.

General Baird, the Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Louisiana, reports that he is furnishing food to the inhabitants of the overflowed districts.

It is understood that Mrs. Davis comes here to urge that her husband be transferred from Fortress Monroe to some prison or fort further North, where there is less danger from the peculiar diseases suggested by the surgeon who made the report to the President of Davis' health as being prevalent at Fortress Monroe.

The Court of Inquiry in the case of Paymaster Paulding have concluded their investigations, and will report in a few days. It is said Colonel Paulding guilty of the technical violation of the Paymaster General's Circular, forbidding the transfer of funds drawn from one bank to another, but acquit of any corrupt motive or personal interest in making the transfer. He will probably be tried by court martial for this violation of orders, and Col. Paulding's friends assert that he much desires such a trial in order that all the facts may be brought out, and that the responsibility may rest where it belongs.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The House Judiciary Committee are still engaged upon the case of Davis and Clay, and their complicity in the assassination and other plots. Considerable testimony has been taken within the last few days as to their guilt. There is no doubt of it in the minds of the leading members, and all reports to the contrary are untrue.

FROM NEW YORK.

Embezzlement by a Clergyman's Son—Hudson River Railroad Depot Burned.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Wall street was excited yesterday with a report of an embezzlement in the Irving Bank. The first story was that the amount involved was over three hundred thousand dollars, but subsequent investigations reduce it to about forty-five thousand dollars. A young man, son of a clergyman, whose name is withheld, a book-keeper in the Bank, is the guilty party. He was arrested and admitted his guilt, and has returned part of the money. The standing of the Bank will not be affected.

At an early hour this morning, a fire broke out in the freight depot belonging to the Hudson River Railroad, on Eleventh avenue and Thirty-second street. The fire spread rapidly, and in less than one hour one large building was completely destroyed, together with two freight sheds, eighteen or twenty loaded freight cars, about one thousand bales of hay and two horses. The loss could not be correctly estimated, but will probably amount to sixty or seventy thousand dollars.

Austria Preparing for War.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A Venice letter, dated on the 2d of May, states that Austria has been making extensive preparations for war, both with Italy and Prussia, since the late news of the German difficulty, and that she was, at the latest moment, well prepared for a bloody defence of her position on the frontiers of both countries. The writer says that the fortifications around Venice were not particularly excited. They looked for a sharp and decisive struggle, and, curiously enough, expected a readjustment of the Austro-Italian question as a result.

From Honduras—Raid by the Indians.

NEW YORK, May 25.—News from Honduras of May 8th, is to the effect that hostile Indians from Yucatan had made a raid on the Rio Brisara and plundered every one they could find. Considerable excitement was manifested in the town on the occasion of the raid, as it was feared that other gangs would make a similar movement.

The Councils of Allegheny City held a special meeting last evening, to take action with regard to the paving of Ohio street by the Pittsburgh, Allegheny & Manchester Passenger Railway Company.

SELECT COUNCIL.—Present: Messrs. Drum, Huckenstein, Irwin, Myler, Smith, A. D., Smith, J. B., Smith, C. C., Thomas and President M'Grier.

Mr. J. B. Smith presented a report from the Street Committee, covering an ordinance providing for the repaving of Ohio street, from the east side of the East Common to the city line, one-half the cost of said improvement to be paid by the company, and the balance by the property owners.

Mr. Myler opposed the passage of the ordinance. If the Railway Company refused to place the street in good and proper repair, the city should insist on them doing so.

Mr. J. B. Smith, chairman of the Street Committee, stated that the curb stones of the street had sunk below the brick pavement, and it was necessary that it should be repaved immediately. The company was willing to pay one-half the cost, if the property holders would pay the balance.

Mr. Irwin favored the adoption of the ordinance. The Railway Company were only required the keep the street in good repair, and were not expected to repave it. The property would be greatly benefitted by the proposed improvement.

Mr. Myler remarked that the citizens residing along the line of the new branch had never petitioned the Councils to re-grade and repave the street. If the company desired to have the street repaved they should be required to pay for it.

Mr. Drum said that if the Councils would wait until the residents on Ohio street petitioned for the paving of the street, they would wait for a long time. Any street was benefitted by having a passenger railway track placed on it.

Mr. J. B. Smith proposed that Mr. Megraw, the Street Commissioner, be called upon to give his views on the subject. He (Smith) said that the street was in a very bad condition, and believed that it was necessary to have it repaved. It could, however, be repaired and placed in as good condition as Rebecca street.

The yeas and nays were called on the passage of the ordinance, resulting Yeas—Messrs. Drum, Hall, Huckenstein, Irwin, A. D. Smith, J. E. Smith, and Thomas—7.

Nays—Messrs. Myler, C. C. Smith, and McBrier, President—3.

Mr. J. B. Smith said that he had just had a conversation with Captain Koontz, the Superintendent of the Railway, and he had stated that it was hardly probable that the Company would accept the ordinance.

A vote being taken, the ordinance was finally passed. C. C. non-concurring, a Committee of Conference was appointed.

The balance of the report of the Committee on streets, recommending the repairing of Jackson street, in the Second ward, and Young's alley, in the Fourth ward, was read, and ordinances providing for said improvements read three times and finally passed.

Mr. Irwin presented a report from the Committee on Common ground improvements, recommending that a premium of one hundred dollars be offered for the best method of fencing public grounds. The report was accepted and the recommendation adopted.

Mr. Myler stated that under an act of the Legislature the city was restricted from expending any money belonging to the city upon the Common ground.

Mr. Thomas moved that the amount be assessed upon the members of the Council. The amendment was lost, and the original resolution read three times and passed.

Mr. J. B. Smith presented a petition for the grading and paving of North canal street, which was read and referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Drum presented the report of the Committee on Streets, with the petition authorizing a warrant in favor of Mr. Thomas Conroy, for the amount expended by him in paving in front of his property, on Robinson street; also, a resolution instructing the City Solicitor to prepare a bill to be presented at the next Legislature, awarding damages to those whose property had been injured, and assessing the damages upon the property benefitted, in changing the grades of streets. The first resolution was lost, and the second was read three times and adopted.

On motion adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Present: Messrs. Hanna, Ingraham, Reed, McDonald, Miller, Walter, McNeil, Faulhaber, Campbell, Heckadorn, Brown, and President Benney.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read, President Benney stated that at this was a special meeting—the object of which he believed—it would be necessary before proceeding to business, to suspend the rules.

On motion of Mr. Megraw, the rules were suspended.

Mr. Hanna stated that the minutes were incorrect, as far as they related to the improvement contemplated to be made on the Gas Grant Engine House.

Professor Benney explained the point raised by Mr. Hanna, and the explanation being satisfactory, the gentleman withdrew his objection and the minutes stood approved.

Mr. McNeil offered the following:

Resolved, By the Select and Common Councils of the City of Allegheny, That the Street Commissioner be instructed to have the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway keep one side of Ohio street clear, so as wagons can pass during the time the same is in the course of construction.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of six to three.

The report of the Sanitary Committee which had been accepted by the Select Council at a former meeting, and non-concurred in by Common Council, was again brought up.

Mr. McNeil moved that the report and resolution be adhered to, and a Committee of Conference be appointed to meet with Select and act upon the report. Carried. Messrs. McNeil, Walter and Hanna were appointed as such Committee.

Mr. Reed, Chairman of the Committee on Steam Fire Engines, presented the report of the Committee with the following resolution:

Resolved, That Mr. Ingraham, the Superintendent of the Steam Fire Engine Company, be and is hereby authorized to contract with the Amoskeag Works for new springs and valves for the said steamer—the present ones being entirely useless.

The report also contained a request asking the Council to pay $25 to the driver of the General Grant steamer—the said driver having been recently discharged from the service of the company.

Mr. Heckadorn stated that for some reason which he could not explain, the company mentioned had not always been entitled to effective service during the last year.

Mr. Hanna said he was very sorry to hear such a statement—one for which no plausible source it did. He thought that it would be advisable, if the company is not efficient, to instruct the Controller not to pay any debts of their contracting.

Mr. Reed stated that he was in favor of giving the company a fair chance. At present they had but one horse, and they should not be expected to run when the city had failed to furnish them with horses.

After considerable debate on the merits of the company in question, a motion was made to accept the report with the exception of that part pertaining to the steamer General Grant, which was adopted.

Select Council non-concurred.

A petition asking for the improvement of River Avenue was read and referred to the Committee on Wharves and Landings with power to act.

Mr. Heckadorn offered an ordinance for the grading, paving, and setting with curb of Church Alley.

Mr. Hanna desired to know if the residents of Church Alley wanted such improvements made at present.

Mr. Heckadorn stated that those owning property there for the most part lived in the country, and he therefore did not know, but that it was an improvement much needed by the citizens in general.

On motion the second and third reading was dispensed with and the ordinance passed.

A petition asking for the grading and paving of North canal street was read and referred to the Street Committee.

Messrs. Hanna, Walter and Megraw were appointed as a Committee to confer with the Select Council with regard to the report of the Committee on Gas, so far as it related to the steamer Gen. Grant.

In all action not otherwise noted there were a mutual concurrence.

On motion adjourned.

Oil Intelligence.

The Lawrence Journal says the Lawrence oil well is yielding daily over 300 barrels of oil—there is not a better well any where in Western Pennsylvania, and the work of developing on the Slipperyrock is growing brisker every day. Lawrence county will ere long be the oldiferous county. Slipperyrock, Connoquenessing, Beaver, Mahoning, Deer creek and other localities.

Another gusher struck (No. 3) on Island Run, the Mahoning well which was struck Saturday, 12th inst., has been tubed and is flowing at the rate of forty barrels per day. The well is six hundred and twenty-one feet, and was drilled in thirty-three days.

The McIntosh Oil Company struck an unusually fine show of oil last week at a depth of 500 feet. The Company is working for itself exclusively by citizens of Beaver. It is on the land owned by the Beaver county oil Company.

Seizure of Fenian Arms at Erie.

U. S. District Attorney Carnahan returned yesterday from Erie City, whither he went on Wednesday, for the purpose of looking after the arms intended for the Fenians seized at that place a few days previous. Some time since he was advised by Washington City authorities of the fact that arms were being shipped to Erie, and directed to give the matter his attention. He accordingly put himself in communication with the Sheriff of Erie county, and the vigilance exercised was the seizure referred to. The packages were found to contain eight hundred and forty new rifled muskets, and the same number of cartridge boxes, belts and knapsacks. These were given in charge of the military authorities at Erie.

The Pardon of Young Hartz.

LOCAL ED. GAZETTE:—In your paper of Wednesday you say respecting young Hartz, the shover of counterfeit money, that the petition for his pardon was signed by the whole Jury. This is a mistake. After a smooth speech to the Jury by Mr. Linn, in which there appeared some improbabilities, a majority of the Jury signed the petition, while a number of others, who, while they wished the boy well, felt it doubtful whether it would either be for his good, or that of the public, to let him off unpunished, refused to sign.

A GRAND JUROR.

Steam Engine Packing.—Practical engineers generally find much difficulty in obtaining a good article of lubricating packing for the stuffing boxes of steam engines. Our attention was recently drawn to the article prepared and manufactured by the Lubricating Packing Company, whose agent is C. B. Stanton, Esq., Nos. 114 and 115 Water street. We find this to answer all purposes, and without exception one of the most superior articles ever used in this establishment. It is sold at seventy-five cents per pound, and from the fact that it is almost universally used upon the railroads throughout the Union, it may well be regarded among the best articles in the market. Mr. Stanton is a clever and accommodating gentleman, and well worthy the patronage of the public.

PH. R. MERTZ,

Banker and Broker,

118 Wood St., near corner of Fifth.

All descriptions of Government Bonds bought and sold on liberal terms.

London and Continental Exchange sold at New York rates.

Gold, Silver and Coupons bought at highest rates, and Gold Drafts issued on New York.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY, May 25, 1866.

Gold took another leap upward in New York to-day, being quoted at 140¼ at noon, but it subsequently fell back about 1 per cent. Government bonds dull and a fraction lower, owing to a disposition to hold off for further developments by the next foreign steamer. P. R. Mertz's New York quotations were as follows: 1881's, 108; 5-20's, 101¼; 10-40's, 99½; 7-30's, 101⅝.

In this market there is but little doing in stocks of any character. Insurance stocks are offering pretty freely, but there seems to be no buyers. Bank shares firm but unchanged—sale of 100 shares Bank of Commerce at 107. There was some inquiry for Columbia Oil stock to-day on eastern account at 18 to 18½, but it is held pretty firmly at 19@20. Railroad stocks quiet and nominally unchanged, and the same remarks will apply to Bridge and Gas stocks.

The recent demand for payments for gold affords the banks an opportunity of getting rid of a large amount of bank currency for which they have no use, and will limit their facilities for lending much less than is generally supposed. On Monday the New York Sub-Treasury sold ten millions of gold, but on Tuesday suspended selling. It is understood that a combination had been formed for buying up $25,000,000 more should the Government have continued its sales; and probably the Government thought it prudent not to invite such extreme operations, and the monetary derangements they might cause, by offering more coin. Should any attempt be made to run up the premium to an extreme rate, the Government still stands, with thirty-five or forty millions of its own available coin, to check the attempt.

—The New York Tribune, of May 24th, says—editorially:

Over five millions more of specie went to Europe yesterday, pushing up the premium (h gold to 35¾, though it afterwards reacted a little. The Government, it was said, did not sell. If it has more gold than it has current need of, it might better have sold.

"This sickness is not auto death." Nay, this great export of gold is not a symptom of disease, but a premonition of returning health. We our selves are sick enough of gold, and she needs it and we owe it to her. If we had not bought far too many goods, we could not have been thus drained. As it is, with a mountain of forty millions resting on us, we must pay when called upon or be branded bankrupt. We trust, therefore, that no impediment will be offered, by our Government, Banks, or others, to the outflow of gold. It goes to those who rightfully own it, and while we would gladly preclude the incurring of any more debt abroad, we are in favor of paying our debts. If short notice of gold will be shipped within the next month, it would probably save us twice that sum in keeping up the prices of our cotton, tobacco, cheese and other staples. Let us get out of debt abroad and keep out; meantime, since no European creditors are in urgent need, let them draw on us, and let us pay to the extent of our ability, even though we only pay in gold. But let us run in debt to Europe, e nevermore!

—The New York Herald criticises the policy of the Secretary of the Treasury, in regard to the recent heavy sales of gold, with considerable severity. In its issue of Thursday, we find the following:

"As regards gold, it is evident that the Treasury has utterly and, we regret to say, disastrously failed in its late attempts to control the market, with which it should never have interfered. It has lost between twenty and thirty millions of coin at a low price, without doing any good, but a considerable amount of harm, both to itself and the country at large, and we submit that it is far better to leave the markets to be controlled by the laws of supply and demand. The Treasury has exhausted itself in an impotent effort, and is now powerless. Such blunders are worse in their effect than crimes, and we are amazed at the shortsightedness of the policy pursued by the Department. The secretary sold to-day, as he announced, 10 per cent of the gold which three hundred and fifty millions of our securities were held abroad, and while he had a large commercial indebtedness to Europe, that the millions of coin he held was quite inadequate to meet a heavy foreign drain and at the same time prevent the premium from rising. He failed to see that the more he sold the more he depressed the premium and the more he widened the difference between the prices of our securities here and abroad, the greater advantage, therefore, he encouraged the export of gold. Government interference in this case has been a shameful failure, involving a warning not to repeat it."

In regard to the effect, in the event of unfavorable foreign news by the next steamer, the same paper says:

"The next news from Europe is not looked forward to with much interest, as it is generally felt, however, unfavorable it may be, it can exert no further influence here save upon gold and exchange, while there is every probability that in the event of war, which seems imminent on the Continent, the securities of the government invested in the conflict will depreciate in about the same ratio that United States securities will rise in popular estimation. Distrust of the finances of Austria, Prussia, Italy and even France will indispose of their securities, and investors will naturally seek to employ their capital in those of countries removed from the influences of the war. Our national independence, under such circumstances, fail to command attention, and the demand for these will probably be sufficient to turn the exchange in our favor before long, although it would be safer for us if no considerable portion of our debt was held abroad. A war in Europe should consequently exert a reassuring rather than a disturbing effect, and the independence of our money market of all the other money markets of the world has already been fully demonstrated, the present disturbance in monetary channels being, it must be borne in mind, the result of the injudicious and almost suicidal sales of gold by the government, and not to foreign advices or the return of securities."

—Late advices from the oil regions are by no means encouraging. The Titusville Herald, of Thursday, says:

The petroleum markets are still in a very unsettled condition. The tendency is downward. The producers are offering to sell at lower figures but without any purchasers that we hear of. It would barely be safe to venture a prediction of the extent to which our markets will be effected by the recent heavy failures in England. A great deal depends on the maintainance of our financial credit on this side of the Atlantic. If we are able to withstand the shock of a drain of gold from this country without producing a panic similar to that which has occurred in England, we may come out all right. On the other hand, should anything like a panic occur here, there is no saying where it will end or to what extent petroleum interests may suffer. Events will determ it may be will take place immediately.

"The producers, under these circumstances are inclined to hold on to their oil a little longer before reducing their prices to correspond with eastern quotations. It is generally conceded that the falling off in the production this fall has been stayed owing to the number of wells which have been recently started up. Pithole, which lately was producing only 500 to 1000 barrels, is now producing 1800 barrels per day, and this number will be augmented hereafter. The accumulation of oil at the wells must be increasing very rapidly, as no sales of any consequence have been made for some time.

PITTSBURGH MRKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, May 25, 1866. {

There has been no new characteristics in the produce markets to-day worthy of special notice, with the exception that there is a firmer feeling manifested, in consequence of the still further advance in gold.

GROCERIES—Coffee is firm and higher; prime to strictly choice Rio quoted at 28 to 29. Sugars, also, are firmer, and held at an advance; Cuba and Porto Rico may be quoted at 12¼ to 12¾, as to quality. Crushed is selling at 17 to 17½, and Coffee Sugars range from ¼ to ⅝ of a cent lower. Rice is selling at 10@— for Rangoon, and Porto Rico Molasses at 80 to 85 cents.

GRAIN—Wheat is in demand and firmer; sale of 2000 bush Club, in elevator, at $2.10; 4 cars Northwestern at $2.15, and 600 bush do at $2.11. Oats firm but unchanged; sale of 1 car No. 1 Chicago, in elevator, at 55, and small sales from store at 60 to 65. Sale of 2000 bushs Rye on Thursday—at $1. No movement in Barley. Corn is quoted firm at 88c to 89c, on track.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, May 25, 1866. {

CRUDE—The transactions in Crude were again light to-day, and while the market ruled quiet, holders were pretty stiff in their views, and buyers and not seem disposed to buy to any extent at the advance. We can report sales of 15 bbls at 14 cents, bbls returned; 60 do do at 14½@22c at 19, and 200 at 19½, packages included. The asking rates may be fairly quoted at 15 bbls Burmuda; 20 do Fair mill run; strips, balance mixed, at 21@25, 60 in mixed at $18.50; 40 in wide uppers at $30; 40 in strips uppers at $30; 10 in pickets at $10; 5 in ordinary coin at $18; 40 in strips, at $17.75, from Moore's mill.—Tribune.

Potatoes in Detroit.

DETROIT, May 25—The market to-day has not manifested the usual activity, though the supply has been good. Dealers were not disposed to pay as high rates as have been ruling for some days past and hence held off for lower prices. The market opened this morning at 80c upon the streets, and prices have ruled at about that rate throughout the day. We note sales of 600 bbls peachblows at $2.80; 1 car do at 70c per bu in bulk.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, May 25.—Flour firm and stock small. Wheat firm and scarce. Corn advanced 2@3c. Oats, 70@72c. Provisions quiet. Whisky firm, at $2.27@2.27½.

Oswego Market.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is still receding slowing at this point with two feet six inches in the channel by the pier marks last evening. The weather continues clear and pleasant, and we fear "Gen A's" prediction that there will be rain to-day, will not be verified.

There has not been a single arrival from below since our last report. The Forest City from Parkersburg, is due here this morning, though she may be thrown behind time by the low water. The Chieftan and Fayette are due here from Brownsville this morning, and will return again to-day at 5 p. m.

The Cambria, for Parkersburg, Revenue, for Portsmouth; and Tablequah, for Cincinnati, constitute the departures—with about all the freight they could take on the water.

Business continues exceedingly dull at the landing, and no improvement need be expected until there is a rise in the river. There is some little freight offering, but the water has become so shallow that boats cannot take enough to pay expenses, and steamboat owners have very wisely concluded to let their boats lie quietly at the wharf until things change for the better.

The Armenia and Kate Robinson left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Tuesday, and the Emma No. 3 and Robt. Moore left Cincinnati on the same day. Wednesday last. The last named boats will probably get through, but it is very doubtful about the two former boats being able to reach here, unless there is a rise.

Capt. Lytle informs us that he will commence loading the Camelia for Cincinnati on Monday, and will probably be ready to leave on Tuesday next. The Camelia is a low water boat, she will doubtless get through with but little difficulty.

Coal oil is about to be put to a new use, that of generating steam for propelling steamboats. We suppose it will be applied only to tow-boats or lugs, as the scent of a reservoir of coal oil on a passenger steamer would be anything but agreeable to the passengers. Now here it is proposed to run the oil through pipes, under the boilers, with burners attached, which can be lighted, and raise steam.

Without disputing the feasibility of the invention, we would ask the question, if coal oil can be burned in this way, why not burn it as it runs, and send the boat on fire, if it does not blow up the pipes, reservoir, boat and all. The great invention now needed is something to prevent steamboat explosions, and not to increase dangers.—Louisville Courier.
